

Lilly Sinclair

Sustainability Project Leader

Hi I'm Lilly, I am a recent graduate with a 1st Class degree honours, specialising in Geographical research. I spent four years exploring the inter-relationships between people and the environment and would love to apply this knowledge to broaden sustainable opportunities. I am experienced within the field of academic research, providing key skills of critical thinking, data collection and analysis. Ideally I spend as much time as I can outdoors within nature, one of my main hobbies being hiking. Alongside this I love to cook nutritious meals with fresh, seasonal produce which minimises our carbon footprint. I regularly attend conferences held by the Royal Institute of International Affairs, through their 'Sustainability Accelerator' programme. This institution provides the latest updates on global environmental policies, from a multitude of knowledges, covering vital topics such as energy transitions, circular economies, and land use transitions. Overall, I am passionate about enabling a sustainable future led by regenerative processes and a collaboration of multiple social values.
